The Inga Elections.

With the near approach of February 18th a much keener interest is being taken in two question of who will represent the ratepayers of the Inga Municipality at the Council board. February 18th is the date set by the Department of Municipal Affairs for the Inga ratepayers to foregather and consider their affairs and receive a statement from the Official Administrator, Mr F. Ronshaw.

That those who expect a return to the former system of elective Councillors are getting election-busy is quite evident in some of the six divisions; and that there will be contests, if the old system returns, goes without saying; as in at least three of the divisions there have been a quarter dozen candidates in the field for some little time.

On the other hand, it has come to light that no small number of the ratepayers have changed their minds within

Heard on Main Street.

Mug—Why don't you get a car for your wife?
Wump—Well, I can't find anyone who's willing to exchange his car for my wife the past year regarding representative government as exemplified in the municipal field. On noting the efficient and satisfactory service given them under the Official Administrator, these ratepayers are inclined to have this system retained for a further term.

This new phase of the situation may come as a slight surprise to those who live out on the outer edges and have not been keeping tab on current opinion. All of which should make the meeting of the Inga ratepayers in Stony Plain town hall on the 18th worth attending.

In the event of there being nominations for Councillors called, the election will be held on the Saturday following, Feb. 25.

Glee Club Dance.

Cheered by the good reception their efforts were given at the last dance held by them, the members of the Glee Club intend trying it again—this time at Moose Hall on Friday, February 24. As usual, a good time may be expected, as a first class orchestra has been engaged for the occasion.

Get the Car License.

Motor visitors to Edmonton will be well advised to not make their appearance on the City streets wearing the out-of-day 1932 black on-white number plates, as Fraser of the Traffic Squad has issued his decree that 1933 number plates are now de rigueur.

Officials of the Motor Licensing Bureau explain that the month's grace usually extended to car owners has expired, and traffic officers will now get busy.

Even traveling local roads with the old plates will not be any too safe in the near future, as it is stated that the R.C.M.P. officers have been asked by the Provincial authorities to help in the campaign.

Since the first of the year over 7000 motor vehicle licenses have been issued in the province—approximately the same figure as this time last year.

THE VOICE OF THE HOCKEY WORLD

Here we see the "Voice of the Forum" in Montreal, the home of the Maroons, and the popular sheet of the great National Hockey League games are played.
The Forum has a capacity of twelve thousand spectators, and the "House-Full" sign is generally in order; even in these days, particularly since the installation of this great Public Address System, using five of the largest loudspeakers over which comes the voice of Reggie Grant, the popular radio announcer of the Maroon home games, telling the audience how the games in other cities are progressing, and giving the outside world through the same microphones, his famous running comments on the local game. Engineers of the Northern Electric Company claim this is the largest installation of its kind in Canada, and one of the largest on this continent.

The three great loudspeaker gondolas are plainly visible among the girders above the ice. Inset is the operating room, and Reggie Grant at the "Mikes" in the announcer's cabin.

The Way Out.

The whole world is looking for a way out of the terribly complicated financial and economic mess into which it has been plunged as a direct result of the Great War. Whatever may be the contributory causes to the intensity and widespread character of the present depression, the main root-cause of the depression was the war and the terms stipulated in the peace treaties. This is now universally recognized. No one seeks to deny it unless they have some particular end to serve by attributing the world's present troubles to something else.

One of the results of the Great War, and the treaties by which it was ended, has been the development of an intensely narrow nationalism, which, in turn, has led to the adoption of those policies which today are strangling the trade of the world and causing all nations to seek ways and means of making themselves self-contained economic units. It is this which has caused the breakdown of monetary systems and adoption of uneconomic policies by which all nations are endeavoring to produce both primary and manufactured products which are not natural to their particular countries. It is one of the outcomes of the war that every nation is desirous of promoting exports while at the same time shutting out imports—an undertaking which even the dullest should understand to be impossible.

More and more, thinking men and women are coming to realize that there are only two ways whereby the world can be brought out of the impasse in which it now finds itself. One is through the instrumentality of another great war; the other is by the nations of the world getting together in conference to undo as far as may be possible the blunders made following the last war and to remedy the mistakes which have been, and still are, perpetrated in by practically all nations.

There may be some lunatic creatures who would believe the first way out, but they are few and far between. Another way would create a huge demand for products and commodities of all kinds, with a consequent enormous increase in prices, because it must be admitted that war, more than any other agency, creates a large demand for almost everything, except pure luxuries. But apart from the horrors of war, the final result would be, as it always has been throughout history, the development of another depression surpassing in its intensity and duration even the one through which we are now passing. War would be no cure for our financial and economic ills; it would merely temporarily raise the depression, only to plunge us back into it in more intensified form.

God forbid, there should be another war, but there will be unless the nations of the world come to their senses, get together in conference, abandon their narrow nationalisms, and work together in union for the common good at all instead of selfish purposes, each seeking to advance itself at the expense of the others.

Yet there are people today so utterly blind or selfish that they go about decrying every effort that is put forth to bring the nations into conference and, let us hope, ultimate agreement and co-operation. These people take the position that conferences are useless; they scoff at them; they predict failure for each and every one of them in advance of their meeting. But if the world's salvations are to be found through the medium of conferences, then its final destruction will be brought about by war, because inevitably, financial and economic warfare, in which the nations are now engaged, will, unless stopped, end in physical war.

These people point to the many conferences already held, and they ask: "What good has come out of them?" They say the Lausanne Conference was a failure, yet at that conference the entrance of Europe agreed to the German reparations down from many billions of dollars to a few hundreds of millions. True, that decision is dependent upon further action yet to be taken, but it was a long step forward toward the solution of the war reparations war debts problem. The same people say the Ottawa Economic Conference was a failure. Well, that depends upon a person's viewpoint. Some very able statesmen and publicists in many countries regard it as a successful beginning to other policies to follow, while others, it is true, consider that mistakes were made in that it did not accomplish much more in the direction of freeing trade and removing the tariff imposed upon imports.

Another world conference is to be held this year, called specifically to deal with world financial and economic problems. All the principal nations of the world will be represented. But already these prophets of despair are going about telling people that it will prove a failure. If it is, it will be time enough to say so after the event, but no good, only harm is done by condemning it in advance. People who adopt such an attitude are not patriots nor friends of their fellow men, but trouble-making busybodies having some ulterior and selfish purpose to serve.

No conference will accomplish all that everybody expects of it or desires it should accomplish. Any conference, if it is to achieve anything, must proceed along the path of compromise. There must be give and take all round. A spirit of co-operation rather than antagonism must be in evidence. Even the smallest thing accomplished is so much gain, and every such gain opens the only way for further gains, just as every loss leads to other and greater losses.

Those who decry and condemn world conferences in advance are, in fact, rejecting the world's only alternative to war as a means of settling differences between nations. There are more conferences now than ever before in the world's history. Why? Because the real and far-sighted leaders of world thought are coming to realize that the only way out of the past age war and because the nations did not try to get together and settle their differences and compose their rival feelings. And if they do not do so now, war will be the only alternative, the inevitable result.

Those who go about decrying, criticizing, and condemning such conferences in advance are nothing more nor less than war-mongers, advocates of international bloodshed and revolution, apostles of the doctrine of physical force, rather than orderly methods of compromise and evolution, slow though it may sometimes be, whereby reform is achieved and mankind moves forward to better things.

Has Seen Canada Grow

Montreal Woman Emigrated From England 87 Years Ago

Five years before Queen Victoria became Queen of England, Sarah Davey was born in London, England. Eighty-seven years ago—the year Abraham Lincoln was assassinated, she came to Canada where she has remained ever since.

Mrs. Ryder, as she now is, celebrated her 100th birthday, at her home in Montreal. Erect and prim, the sunlight streaming on her white hair—hair that needs no lace cap to hide the wear of time—Mrs. Ryder told of the Canada of 1865.

"I expected Canada would be very busy," she said, "and it was! We lived in Irberville for nearly 50 years and all my children were born there. Those were good days. In winter we had long sleigh drives and in summer we went over the country roads were many more country, real country roads than . . . Irberville and the surrounding country is very different now. And the winters were ever so much colder."

Mrs. Ryder doesn't worry about her meals. "She eats three good meals a day," her daughter said, "and has a glass of ale every night before she goes to bed."

The old lady is not out of sympathy with the present generation. "I like to see the girls enjoying themselves," she said, "but I don't think mothers should allow them to stay out all hours of the night as if they weren't interested in them."

Extraordinary Discovery

Ordinary Magnet Said To Extract Cells From Body

Discovery that an ordinary magnet can be used to obtain from the organs where they live the immensely important cells believed to be responsible for the immunity of animals to disease is announced by two workers of the Rockefeller Institute of Medical Research, at New York.

Harmless particles of highly-magnetic iron are introduced into the body in such a manner that the prized cells pick up the iron and gradually like lodestone to the magnet. It has been impossible heretofore to separate them from the obscuring masses of millions of other body cells. Unharned by their iron meal, they are raised "in vitro," that is, they continue to live and grow in glass dishes. There they are now under observation at the "baptiste" for learning more about their functions.

Ceylon Wants Throne Back

Has Been At Windsor Castle For Over Hundred Years

A request that the ancient throne of the Kandyan kings, which has been at Windsor Castle for more than 100 years, should be returned to Ceylon, its traditional home, is being made by the Ceylon state council to the secretary of state for the colonies.

The throne was used by British sovereigns at the investiture of knights of the Garter until 1924, when it was removed by the King's command, from the throne room to the grand vestibule because it was considered out of keeping with the decorative scheme.

The throne, which is an imposing structure of silver gilt, supporting dragons of cut crystal with amethyst eyes, is ornamented with floral decorations. The plating is set with gems.

A New Motor Fuel

Substitute For Gasoline Developed In Ireland Proving Success

The new crescent oil substitute for gasoline which was discovered and developed by the municipal gas department of Belfast, Ireland, is proving a success, and is gaining recognition in other parts of the world. For the last 15 months, 12 Belfast municipal buses on different routes have used the new fuel with great success according to reports. More of these vehicles are to be converted to use of the fuel at once, and a five-year plan for changing all buses has been outlined. J. D. Smith, the gas works manager, has, in response to inquiries sent the formula to all parts of the world.

Plan Is Developing

Sea-Air Service Would Make Base At Galway, Ireland, Necessary

A combined sea and air passenger service, that would reduce the travelling time between New York and London to three and a half days, has attracted the interest of influential New York bankers.

The project calls for establishment of a large base at Galway, on the west coast of Ireland, for aeroplanes operating in conjunction with fast trans-Atlantic liners and for a modern, well-equipped harbor to accommodate the liners themselves.

C. H. Clonding, president of the Irish Trans-Atlantic Corporation, Ltd., which is developing the scheme, is to confer with New York bankers, who have indicated their willingness to back the project. Dutch and Canadian interests, it is learned, also are watching the development closely.

Galway is ideally situated for the plan. A full day or more could be saved in the New York-London route now if the fast boats put in there and the passengers made the rest of the trip by air.

The plan already is so far advanced that it has drawn the interest of the Canadian, British, and Dutch governments, which see in it immense commercial and other possibilities.

Professor Sees New Age

Says People Now Willing To Sacrifice For Worthy Ends

The end of the present age of cynicism, which he sees as an aftermath of the world war, is envisioned by Dr. Jesse Holmes, professor of philosophy at Swarthmore College, Philadelphia.

"We have passed through three ages," he said. "The age of softness was followed by the age of sentimentality. Since the war cynicism has been the ruling spirit. Now I believe we are entering upon an age of genuine faith and willingness to sacrifice for great and worthy ends."

Delicacy From China

Ten-Year-Old Egg Exhibited At "Chinese Evening" In Boston

An exhibition of curios including a ten-year-old egg which was brought from China by Mrs. H. W. Dunning of Brooklyn, featured the "Chinese evening," conducted in Jacob Sleeper Hall by the Boston University Women Graduates Club.

The egg was preserved according to Chinese custom, in quicklime, which makes it very hard-boiled. Eggs of this sort are considered a delicacy in China, according to Mrs. Dunning.

Win Progress Prize

Mennonite Farmers Given Second Award In C.N.B. Competition

The community of Hanover, centering on the town of Steinbach, east of Winnipeg, was awarded first prize in Canada's Mennonite Railways community progress competitions for communities of European origin in Manitoba, according to information received from Dr. W. J. Black, director of "colonization and agriculture, for the company. This is the third year's operation of these competitions.

The first prize community in Manitoba consists of six school districts, centering on the town of Steinbach. This is a Mennonite settlement, started more than 50 years ago. In the first few years the settlement they had no capital for equipment, but gradually established themselves as farmers through their own initiative and endeavor. Today this community is one of the finest from an agricultural standpoint in Manitoba.

The board of judges, composed of Prince Rupert, Manitoba, and Brother Joseph Plunk, principal of Provencher school, awarded second place to Vito, a Ukrainian community in southeastern Manitoba, and third place to Sifton, which comprises the north half of the Canadian prairie, a Ukrainian community north of the town of Dauphin.

Dr. Clarence Craford, of Stockholm, Sweden, announced a successful operation on a woman patient whose heart he stopped for four minutes while he removed a blood clot from the organ.

The patient regained her health. It was claimed to have been the eighth such operation in medical history, operation on a woman patient whose heart was stopped for four minutes. Two others were in Sweden and three in Berlin.

National Radium Commission Chairman Draws Attention To Dangerous Nature Of Substance

Radium, the rarest and costliest of minerals, commonly regarded as a valuable servant of surgery in the fight against cancer, can be the most lethal and dangerous of poisons in the hands of the unscrupulous and the ignorant.

In making this statement to a conference of experts, Viscount Lee of Fareham, chairman of the national radium commission, drew a startling picture of the potentialities for evil if the substance were put to a criminal use, says a London newspaper.

"A tiny flask containing one gramme," he declared, "would be sufficient to murder your neighbor sleeping on the other side of the wall of a semi-detached house, without arousing suspicion in the minds of his family or the police."

Urging strict government control of radium, Lord Lee gave alarming examples of the terrible effects of certain patent remedies and cosmetics containing radio-active substances, some of which, he stated, were so deadly that their preparation or sale should be "sterily suppressed."

Lord Lee's pronouncement was made while delivering the Sylvanus Thompson lecture to the conference of the British Institute of Radiology at Central Hall, Westminster.

While there was doubt about the curative value of radium, he declared, there was none about its palliative effect and its power to relieve pain. On that ground it could claim to be of benefit to mankind. Its greatest foes were ignorance and overconfidence.

It was the conviction of the national radium commission that "radium is far too dangerous a substance to be let loose upon mankind. It is the most lethal and dangerous of poisons. It should be prohibited from importation or sale, except under special license."

Under existing conditions the extreme costliness of radium was perhaps the public's best safeguard. At £15,000 a gramme there was not much risk of its becoming a "best seller."

As an example of the perils of carelessness in the use of radium, Lord Lee described the case of the New Jersey girls who while painting luminous watch dials with a preparation containing minute quantities of radium or mesothorium, pointed the brushes at intervals with their tongues.

In many cases the consequences did not become apparent until more than four years after the girls had left their employment.

"How many girls perished as a result of this careless use of radium is not accurately known," added Lord Lee, "but 18 have certainly died and some 30 more are regarded as doomed."

Referring to patent remedies, cosmetic preparations and the like, containing or professing to contain radium or radio-active substances, Lord Lee stated that in some cases these were harmless. They were merely fraudulent because they contained no radium at all, or only a negligible trace.

On the other hand some commercial preparations containing radium were so potentially deadly that their preparation or sale should be sternly suppressed by law and even made a criminal offence.

"I refer particularly," Lord Lee went on, "to the so-called 'radium waters.' This deadly beverage really contains an appreciable amount of radium, and its first effect is undoubtedly agreeable and stimulating."

"So much so that one of its prominent victims, a Pittsburg iron-master and an amateur golf champion, not only drank large quantities himself, because it seemed to 'improve his game,' but being wealthy and generous he sent cases of it as gifts to his sporting friends. What became of them I do not know, but he himself died recently from neuritis of the jaw, acute anaemia and abscess of the brain.

"The autopsy revealed the largest amount of radium ever found in a human body—some thirty micrograms, enough to kill three men or women."

"This was perhaps an extreme case, but a credulous public in this country is being flooded with advertisements of quack 'radium remedies.'"

"None of these, I am informed, can have the slightest therapeutic value, and to such extent, if any, as they contain radium must be harmful and potentially dangerous."

"In my view the preparation or sale of radio-active preparations designed for either internal or external use should be absolutely prohibited."

Over Hundred Trains Daily

Electric Service Between London and
Brighton Cost £2,750,000

The new electrified service from London to Brighton, Hove, Shoreham, and Worthing—five trains an hour each way and refreshments all the time was opened on a recent morning by the Lord Mayor of London, Sir Percy Greenaway.

He and his party, accompanied by newspapermen, left Victoria station at 11:12 and reached Worthing in an hour and 12 minutes, where they were greeted by T. E. Hawkins.

At Brighton a few minutes later Mayor Frank G. Beal and council entertained the party to luncheon. This took place in the handsome hall of that strange exotic structure in Brighton which was a royal palace more than a century ago.

One hundred years ago the first steam coach arrived in Brighton by road from London. Those passengers, too, had luncheon. They needed it. The journey had taken them seven hours.

Then there was the once famous Red Rover coach that broke all speed records with horses on the Brighton Road with a time of 4 hours 24 minutes.

Someone else had an idea of taking passengers to Brighton on a motor-propelled by sails, but gave it up.

On September 20, 1841, the first steam train arrived in Brighton on rails.

The electric service now inaugurated has cost about £2,750,000. On week days it will provide 104 trains and 35,120 seats daily between Brighton and London. An increase of at least 4,000 passengers a week over existing traffic is expected.

Has Peculiar Hobby

English Aristocrat Allows Spiders
the Run Of His House

The Marquess of Tavistock, only son of the Duke of Bedford has a new hobby—spiders.

The marquess, who is a well-known orthopedist, not only studies the spiders but breeds and feeds them and even allows them the run of his house at Pensarnarth, Sussex.

Miss Muffets need be frightened no longer, the marquess says, for as far as he can ascertain all the alarming propensities attributed to spiders are mythical. They possess considerable intelligence and the males are past masters in tact when it comes to dealing with their women folk, he says. For instance, if Mrs. Spider is peevish her husband will soothe her by pulling and shaking the web—a proceeding which she seems to like.

Lady Member Of French Secret Service Had Record Of Notable Accomplishments During War

A New Narcotic

Believed To Be More Effective Than
Morphine, and Non-Habit Forming

Medical science is expected to announce soon the perfection of a narcotic derivative said to be more effective in relieving pain than morphine or heroin. This sedative—dilauid—is now being studied in the United States Public Health Service and leading clinics throughout the nation.

German and Swiss scientists already have made remarkable claims for dilauid. Several high-ranking German doctors assert that dilauid is not habit-forming.

Recent experiments at the Mayo Brothers clinic are understood to have shown that dilauid is especially valuable in obstetrical, cancer and intestinal treatments.

A report received by Harry J. Angellier, Commissioner of the Federal Bureau of Narcotics, from the Mayo clinic stated that "dilauid in one-sixth the dose of morphine proves as effective."

Dilauid is a cousin of heroin. Chemically it is di-hydromorphine hydrochloride.

Winter Is Less Severe

U.S. Weather Charts Show Spring Is Closer Behind

Charts covering a period of 113 years offered an answer to the old query: If winter comes, can spring be far behind?

Spring, the United States weather bureau decided after long study of the charts, is not so far behind winter as it used to be—but there is no telling about the future.

J. B. Kincir, chief of the climatological section of the bureau finds that the most severe winters during the last century occurred about the time of the civil war, that since winters have been a little shorter and less intense.

Did Not Need Finding

Bobby did not seem to be paying much attention to the lesson, so his teacher thought she would question him, just to see if he had been listening.

"Now, Bobby Jones!" she cried. "Where are elephants found?"

"Well, miss," said Bobby, "they are so big they aren't very often lost!"

She looked like a Parisian. But her name had a sound as British as afternoon tea. Over in Paris the her-Thomas Crompton. There was a red called it out last week, Mrs. Bingham among the crowd as the dignitaries stepped up to pin upon her the red ribbon of the Legion of Honour. Then came a cry of "Viva la France!" a sweeping back of fifteen years and war slogans once more leaped in the blood.

Then there were whispers that cried to cheers of "Alouette," "The Skyline" for the quiet looking woman receiving the pledge of acclaim of her Country was Mme. Richard, one of the foremost members of the French Secret Service, with a record of notable accomplishments during the War years.

Marthe Richard was an aviator, and that was the service she sought eagerly to join. But the authorities would not hear of it: So she joined the Secret Service and was sent to Spain. Mme. Richard hadn't had any previous experience, but she had her own will to point the way for her. It was a brilliant path. First in it was Baron von Kolberg, who was in charge of all German naval intelligence in the Iberian peninsula. Mme. Richard explained to him that she was a French spy, but allowed him to think that she would sell out to the Germans. So for fifteen months she led the Baron along, apparently serving with Berlin and Paris. She managed to tell Paris, however, of the German spy network, sending along a sample and of the numbers and location of German spies in France communicating with Spain. She sent along, also, samples of highly explosive toys with which it was the pleasure of the Germans to blow up French munition plants. Finally, she told the Allies of Germany's intention to reopen unrestricted submarine warfare and of the fact of the 200 submarines which they had at their disposal.

It must have been a shock to Baron von Kolberg, when one afternoon after she had riddled his safe—she cheerfully informed him that she was about to step out. Such a thought as disloyalty to him had never crossed his mind.

The Baron was later tried for flagrant neglect of duty. But no one knew the femme's name until she was cited for decoration.

It seems altogether too bad that there should be an edict against Secret Service memoirs. Mme. Richard's, that is Mrs. Thomas Crompton's, would make good reading. —Winnipeg Free Press.

Greenland Route Best

Termed Safest Way By Air From America To Europe

Fast air travel between America and Europe over a safe route and on regular schedule was the prospect held out to an audience in Convocation Hall, Toronto, by one whose pioneer investigations have done much to make such an airway possible. The speaker was Dr. W. H. Hobbs, geologist and explorer, of the University of Michigan, who delivered the weekly Royal Canadian Institute lecture, telling what recent expeditions have learned about Greenland. The best air route will use Labrador, Greenland and Iceland as intermediate points, Dr. Hobbs stated. "The longest water jump involved is 600 miles," he said. "This course also promises the greatest freedom from fog, offers winds over Greenland which can always be favorable, and is the closest to great circle sailing of all projected courses."

An Afterthought

A neighbor called on the Meektons. After a short talk he rose from his chair.

"Well, well," he said, "I suppose I must be going. I'm on my way to the club."

"I think I'll go, too," he said.

"What?" put in Mrs. Meekton, glaring at her husband out of the corner of her eyes.

"Bed!" finished Meekton miserably.

Oranges From Palestine

Shippers Are Transported To Halifax In Prime Condition

The second shipment of Jaffa oranges to reach Halifax this season arrived on the S.S. City of Oron. The modern facilities with which the vessel is equipped enabled it to load some thousands of cases of these Palestine oranges at Port Said, transporting them in prime condition the entire distance to Halifax.

Already this year the quantity of Jaffa oranges reaching the port of Halifax is considerably in excess of all Canadian importations of this fruit during 1932. The fiscal year ending March 31, 1933, showed a total of 4,792 cases of Jaffa oranges entering Canada. This was the first real development of this trade with Palestine, previous shipments being 170 cases in 1931 and 281 cases in 1929.

France's New Super Liner

"La Normandie" Soo Large To Go Through Panama Canal

And now France has peevish the pride of the United States. She has built a great new super-liner, the world's marine giant. That could be passed over, perhaps, but it won't go through the Panama Canal. "La Normandie" is too large to go through the locks. The present lock chambers of the canal are 1,000 feet in length and 110 feet wide. The "Normandie" is 1,020 feet long and has a beam of 117 feet. They talk of building a larger lock at the Panama but present estimates of the third set only call for a length of 1,200 feet with a spread of 125. But even that in the matter of width, will allow only four feet more on each side of a vessel of the "Normandie" proportions, certainly not too great a margin for safe handling of so gigantic a structure. However, present maritime trade and financial conditions are not such as to render likely an increase even of the stated amount in the canal's locking capacity for a considerable time in the future. It will be strange if the Panama Canal is out-moded by greater feats of engineering skill—Brandon Sun.

SLIM LINES AND SMARTNESS

It's amazingly simple to copy! Today's model is stunning carried out in a dark and light grey crinkly crepe silk.

The soft neckline is extremely becoming and youthful. There is the important snugness about the hips but not carried too low to make strain across the thighs. The front of the skirt cuts in one with the hip yoke, creating a panel which tends to give the figure height. The rest of the skirt is slightly shaped for ease of movement.

Why not have it? You can copy it exactly for a very small sum.

It's a dress you can wear now and all through the spring. Style No. 480 is designed for sizes 36, 38, 40, 42, 44 and 46 inches bust. Size 36 requires 3 1/4 yards 39-inch, with 1 1/2 yards 38-inch contrasting. Price of pattern 20 cents in stamps or coin (coin is preferred). Wrap coin carefully.

Canada's Wheat Crop

Final Estimate For 1932 Places Yield

At 428,514,000 Bushels
The total production of wheat in Canada for the year 1932 was 428,514,000 bushels according to the final official estimate made by the Canadian Government Bureau of Statistics. This yield was from 27,182,100 acres, or an average production of 15.8 bushels per acre. The 1932 crop was 107,189,000 bushels greater than that of 1931, which totalled 321,325,000 bushels from 20,200,928 acres, or 12.3 bushels per acre. Of the whole of last year's wheat crop the three Prairie Provinces—Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta—accounted for 408,400,000 bushels from 26,395,000 acres.

The 1932 total yield of oats for the Dominion was 391,261,000 bushels from 13,148,400 acres, an average yield of 29.8 bushels per acre. Barley returned an aggregate crop of 80,773,000 bushels from 3,577,600 acres, equal to 21.5 bushels per acre. Both the oats and barley crops were larger in 1932 than in 1931, and, as in the case of wheat, the Prairie Provinces were the principal producers of oats and barley.

The aggregate value of all Canadian grain crops in 1932 is estimated at $416,986,900, as compared with $432,235,400 in 1931. The total area under field crops is estimated at 59,633,500 acres, as compared with 58,074,905 acres in the previous year.

SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

FEBRUARY 19

JESUS TEACHING BY PARABLES—THE GROWTH OF THE KINGDOM

"Golden Text: "The earth shall be full of the knowledge of Jehovah, as the waters cover the sea."—Isaiah 11:9.

Lesson: Mark 4:21-34.
Devotional Reading: Psalm 119:33-40.

Explanations and Comments

Responsibilities of Disciples, verses 21-25.—"Unto you is given the mystery of the Kingdom of God." Jesus said to the disciples as He began to explain to them the parable of the "Tares" (Mark 4:11), and now He goes on to tell them that privilege carries with it responsibility; if their insight into great truth was greater than that of the multitude theirs was the responsibility of making use of it for the common benefit.

"Is the lamp brought to be put under the bushel, or under the bed, and not to be put on the stand?" The use of a light is to shine, therefore the lamp is not to be hid but to be put where it can be seen. Knowledge is for oneself—it is to be shared. "We are back here at a principle which runs right through the New Testament, namely this, that every gift conferred upon us by God is conferred upon us for use; not for our own enjoyment or enrichment, but for service. The word of the Gospel is not a thing to be hoarded, it is a thing to be shared. We hear it in order that we may proclaim it. We receive it that we may spread it." "Let your light so shine before men," said Jesus, "that they may see your good works."

"Heaven doth with us, as we with lighted torches do. Not light them for themselves, for if our virtues Did not throw forth from us, 'twere all alike As though we had them not."

What you get from listening depends upon the manner in which you listen. If you are indifferent to what is being said, or if your mind is so distracted that although you hear the words you do not "sense" them, then you are not being profited by your hearing. What you get from any service depends upon what you bring to it. If you bring an attentive ear and a receptive heart, then you receive your reward.

The Power of Growth Inherent in Spiritual Things, the Parable of the Seed Growing Secretly, verses 26-29. The seed is the Word of God, we learned in the parable immediately preceding these verses. Now we are told of the secret, mysterious growth of the seed, of its orderly growth from the first blade, then the ear, then the full corn in the ear—and then of the fruit-bearing power of the earth and of the time of full harvest.

No Good Unless Spread

Value of Gold Lessened When Supply Tied Up

It rested very much in the hands of the present gold standard and creditor countries whether gold was to become so rare in relation to other commodities that the full use as a backing for currency was a luxury that only one or two could enjoy. In France they were beginning to realize that gold was very much like the large cake the schoolboy mistakenly kept to himself until it "went bad on him."

So we came back to the old proverb. "Money, like muck, is no good unless spread." That was true of gold than any other form of money, and gold could only justify its extraordinary intrusion into the world's affairs if it aided—and always aided—interchange of goods. The moment we became frightened of that interchange, the value of gold was a delusion.

British common sense, backed by bitter experience, ought to take us into the counsel of the nations better equipped to solve the problems that confronted us, and meanwhile it behooved everyone to try individually to master the problems.—Sir Josiah Stamp.

Taking a Holiday

He was standing on the corner paying absolutely no attention to anyone. He shook his head and mumbled to himself: "No, no—no, no!" He paid no attention to the crowd that gathered, but just kept saying: "No, no, no!"

Another shook him by the arm and said: "What's the matter, my friend?"

"Nothing at all," came the reply, "I'm just a 'yes man' taking a day off."—Railroad Trainman.

Sounds Rather Untidy

To the Uninitiated "Cutting Novels" Means Just That

Newspaper folks know what the job of "cutting novels" is, but to the uninitiated the term means little. Anyway, a young woman was hired to attend to this job which consists of going through current novels with a blue pencil, crossing out unnecessary paragraphs in order to bring the story down to a length suitable for serial publication. She took her work home with her. With a sigh of resignation her mother called to her, "I've laid the scissors on the living room table for you." Amused the daughter queried, "Just what do you think 'cutting novels' means?" "I don't know," returned the mother, "but I've been reading the way the house would look when you get through."

Thrives Under Depression

Municipal Pawn Shop in Paris Does Big Business

The Credit Municipal de Paris, which in plain English is the city pawn shop, on a large scale, is well known to the French as "My Aunt," is enjoying the unique sensation of being highly satisfied with the much-talked-of depression. The less money people make, of course, the more they tend to borrow, and "Ma Tante" is always more than willing to lend. Statistics communicated recently show that during 1931 the number of objects deposited as securities for loans exceeded by 55,000 the total for 1930. And 1932's figures are likely to even surpass this.

BRITISH SET NEW LONG DISTANCE AIR RECORD

Walfish Bay, South Africa.—Two English officers of the Royal Air Force stepped down, trim and smiling from a giant monoplane here, after travelling 5,340 miles from England without a stop and setting the United Kingdom supremacy.

The brilliant flight of Squadron Leader O. R. Gayford and Flight Lieut. G. R. Nicholls brought the long-distance non-stop flight record to Great Britain alongside the altitude and speed records that other crack airmen of the Royal Air Force had won. British became the first nation in history to hold all three major air records.

Fresh-shaven, showing little signs of fatigue, they quietly explained they would have gone further, attempting to reach Cape Town without a stop, if they had had any fuel left.

Cape Town is 6,198 miles from Cranwell aerodrome, England, where the flyers took off.

A perfect landing marked the end of the roaring trip over English countryside, the channel, France and the Mediterranean, the desert, jungle and hills of Africa. The officers had been in the air for 57 hours and 28 minutes.

When they came down, Gayford and Nicholls cheerily greeted the handful of persons who were around, personally attended to their machine, pushing it to a place of safety, and then went to a hotel where they were soon fast asleep.

Gayford and Nicholls travelled 328 miles further than the former long-distance holders, Russell Boardman and John Polando of the United States, who flew from the United States to Turkey in 1931.

Ottawa Discusses Wage Cuts

House Takes First Step In $3,000,000 Payroll Reduction

Ottawa, Ont.—The government has taken the first step to cut $3,000,000 from the national payroll. Resolutions were introduced, prefacing submission of bills cutting 10 per cent. from seasonal indemnities of members and senators and the salaries of civil servants. It is proposed to levy an additional 10 per cent. income tax against judges, Royal Canadian Mounted Police and army and navy officers.

For three hours the House discussed the resolution which, in effect extends for another year the salary cuts already in effect. The debate was side-tracked to make way for departmental estimates.

Five members rose from opposition benches to oppose the salary slash—J. S. Woodsworth, leader of the Co-operative Commonwealth Federation; E. R. E. Chevier, Ottawa; Dr. J. A. Denis, St. Denis, Montreal; William Duff, Antigonish-Guysboro, and J. P. Pouliot, Temiscamata.

Hon. E. N. Rhodes, Minister of Finance, piloted the resolution in the House.

French League Spokesman Makes Appeal To Nations To Lead the Way

Geneva, Switzerland.—Former Premier Joseph Paul-Boncour closed general debate on the French armament plan with an appeal to European countries to create Europe's own security through regional pacts like the Locarno treaty as an accompaniment to arms reduction.

The French spokesman, in discussing the chances of concluding a universal guarantee of security, made an implied appeal to the United States to take the lead in moves to implement the Briand-Kellogg pact.

Lower Bank Interest

Cut Bound To Come Shortly According To Officials

Toronto, Ont.—Interest rates will be cut in the near future, the Toronto Telegram says. "It is bound to come," representative heads of banking and trust corporations informed the Telegram. They base their forecast on the firm opinion interest rates on deposits in government savings will be reduced. J. A. McLeod, general manager of the Bank of Nova Scotia and president of the Canadian Bankers' Association, has intimated the banks are waiting for a lead from the government.

Would Raise Standards

Use Canadian Ports

Senate Railway Committee Approves Policy Of Use Of Canadian Route

Ottawa, Ont.—The senate railway committee set the stamp of its approval on the policy of moving Canadian goods for export over Canadian railways to Canadian seaports. More than a mere declaration of principle, the senate committee, by inserting an amendment in the present railway bill, gave a specific direction to the trustees of the Canadian National Railways that, unless a shipper indicates otherwise, goods consigned within Canada for carriage by the Canadian National and intended for export must be so exported out of Canadian ports.

This, in the opinion of Rt. Hon. Arthur Meighen, went to the full limit of the demands sought by the delegates from the Maritime provinces who had appeared before the senate committee. Such a course was in line with Canadian policy. It had been included in the agreements under which the transcontinental railway was constructed.

Parliament had not the authority to enact such a provision in relation to the Canadian Pacific, but it had the power to do so for the government-owned road, said Senator Meighen.

Railways Indispensable

Ottawa, Ont.—Subsidiary forms of transportation must not be allowed to put the railways out of business, Rt. Hon. Arthur Meighen, government leader, stated in the senate. The railways were indispensable and the lesser utility must yield to the more important one.

READY TO TAKE THE "ROAD BACK"

With the Nazi forces, of which his son is a prominent member, riding the crest of the wave in Germany, following the appointment of Adolf Hitler as Chancellor, the former Kaiser Wilhelm is reported to be preparing to leave his exile at Doorn, Holland, to return to Germany. Above are two pictures of the ex-emperor. The main photo shows Wilhelm as he is today, leading the life of a country gentleman at his Doorn castle. The picture in the oval shows the former monarch when he was the "All-Highest," Germany's Emperor and war lord.

Deal Reaching Critical Stage

Barter Scheme With Russia, Still Being Discussed

Ottawa, Ont.—Negotiations looking to a barter of Canadian cattle for Russian oil and coal are reaching a critical stage, it is believed here. The scheme as proposed by the western syndicate headed by G. G. Serkauf of Winnipeg, is still about but the near future may determine whether or not negotiations will be dropped.

When the syndicate first approached the government with a plan whereby, to ensure the deal going through, Canada would guarantee Russia seven per cent. bonds accepted as interim payment for cattle and at the same time guarantee the syndicate against breach of contract on the part of the Soviet government, it was turned down.

Since then sponsors of the idea have learned they may be able to raise sufficient capital to finance the undertaking without government assistance but before putting money into it they want to be sure they will be able to bring the necessary quantity of Russian products into Canada and dispose of them.

Toronto Bank Robbery

Two Armed Men Escape With Large Sum Of Money

Toronto, Ont.—Two armed men walked coolly into the Bank of Toronto branch at Queen and Kenilworth Streets here and a few moments later had made their escape with between $5,000 and $5,000 in cash.

It was the second bank robbery in the city this week. A few days ago, two men robbed the Royal Bank at Wellesley and Church Streets, one escaping with $3,200 and a man alleged to be the other being shot in the shoulder after a gun-battle on a busy street with a policeman. Two clerks and the manager were in the east end bank today when the bandits stalked in. All three employees were locked in the vault.

Mining Boom

Activity In Mining Stocks Gives Employment To Many Men

Toronto, Ont.—Jobs have been restored to more than 100 former brokerage house employees in Toronto as a result of the recent activity in mining stocks. Started several weeks ago, it was not until this week that brokers' offices were compelled to send out hurry-up calls for floormen, telephone operators, accountants, stenographers and telegraph operators.

Mining men state if the inflow of foreign and Canadian money continues, thousands of field workers will gain employment in exploration work and actual mining.

SAYS DIVERSIFIED FARMING WILL ASSIST THE WEST

Regina, Sask.—During the past years farmers of western Canada have realized they must get into diversified farming, states H. O. Powell, general manager of the Dominion Agricultural Credits Company, Limited. Many have taken to livestock, he adds, and changed their crops from all wheat to wheat and other grain.

Included in the activities of the company, Mr. Powell cites the purchase and distribution of 4,853 sheep and 1,885 head of cattle during the past year. The sheep are all purchased in the prairie provinces and dozens of new flocks have been started in districts where sheep were never before seen. The total value of the sheep distributed in the prairie provinces is $31,151 and for cattle, $31,735.

Suffolk, Oxford, Shropshire and Hampshire sheep are the breeds taken up by the farmers and the cattle are mostly Hereford and Aberdeen-Angus animals of the best types.

Not a single case of failure has been reported to the company, during the past year. Mr. Powell believed this record is due to the supervision the company provides through its corps of experts, who are kept busy practically all the time.

Big development is expected in central Saskatchewan, northeast Saskatchewan and northwest Manitoba. In the Swan River district, also in the districts between Clareholm and Edmonton and from Edmonton west to the Rockies.

One of the problems in districts where feed is scarce has been partly solved by using wheat and what was formerly considered one of the worst weeds in the country—Russian thistle. At the present time Mr. Powell is busy preparing a circular on the use of Russian thistle as feed. He has secured much information and is inviting farmers, who have been using this weed to write their experience and forward them to the company.

Mr. Powell expressed much satisfaction at what had been accomplished by the Agricultural Credit Company to date and believed that despite all talk of depression the farmers were reconstructing their methods and within a short time would be out of trouble.

Receives New Appointment

Winnipeg Man Now Chief Secretary To Premier Bennett

Ottawa, Ont.—Appointment of R. K. "Rod" Finlayson, of Winnipeg, as chief secretary to the Prime Minister, is a public recognition of his services since coming to Ottawa. Finlayson has become the right hand of the leader of the government. He does not function as a private secretary. One could frequent Mr. Bennett's suite of offices indefinitely and never see him. He does not meet the public, but works in a little office tucked out of the way in the East block—20 paces from his chief.

Not Guilty Of Libel

Toronto, Ont.—Written verdict of the jury found P. D. Ross, publisher of the Ottawa Journal, not guilty of libelling W. T. R. Preston of Port Hope, in the $20,000 damage suit brought by the latter. The verdict also said, "We find that Mr. Preston had no honorable public career." The jury deliberated two hours before returning a verdict.

Huge Pyramid Of Butter

Toronto, Ont.—A 2,934-pound pyramid of butter, all from the cream of one cow, was on display during the Holstein Friesian Association's annual meeting held here, February 9. At the convention banquet Premier George S. Henry presented a gold watch to the owner of the cow, T. P. Dent, Woodstock.

Unclaimed Bank Balances

Ottawa, Ont.—The report of unclaimed bank balances tabled in the House of Commons by Hon. E. N. Rhodes, Minister of Finance, reveals that there is $1,560,194.75 of unclaimed money in the banks throughout Canada.

Railroads and the Farmers.

The managements of the Canadian Pacific Ry and the C.N.R. System have requested the railway workers to accept a cut of 10 per cent in pay. Their present average wage, as shown by the Dept. of Labor at Ottawa is 84 p.c. higher than it was in 1913, and the cost of living of an average family in the city, also compiled by Dept. of Labor, is 25 per cent higher than in 1913; thus the real wage or scale of living of the railroad worker today is 59 per cent higher than in 1913. (The farmers' real wage or scale of living as shown by the Searle Farmers' Index is at least 50 p.c. below the 1913 level).

Even tho the proposed 10 per cent reduction is put in force the railway workers will still be receiving about 64 p.c. more money wages than in 1913, or approximately 30 p.c. of a higher scale of living. Since 1929 the cost of living of an average family in the city, including rent and fuel, has decreased 22 p.c.

With the additional 10 p.c. cut, railway workers will still be approximately as well off as in 1929, and 30 p.c. better off than they were in 1913 in real wages or scale of living.

It is to be hoped, says a circular published by Searle Grain Co., that a decision will be arrived at for handling the railroads and in the settlement of workers' wages that will eventually mean lower freight rates on things farmers buy.

Bandits Tackled Wrong Town

It makes pleasant reading when one learns that those who make attempts to rob a bank don't always get away with it. Bandits recently tackled Buley, Okla., a negro village, and tried to rob the bank: they struck the wrong town; the president pulled the hidden alarm; a bandit killed him; who was in turn killed by a bookkeeper; the rest of the town came on the run; the town marshal killed another burglar; and the marshal's fellow townsman, filled the remaining burglar so full of buckshot that it is doubtful if he recovers.

White men started it, and Negroes finished it.

Turkey Cheap and Plentiful.

The province of Alberta is enjoying the rather doubtful distinction this winter of having turkeys so cheap and so plentiful that, probably for the first time in history, turkey meat is on the regular course of the 2-bit meals at city restaurants. It has ceased to be a luxury; in fact, turkeys are a popular medium of barter for farmers these days. The province reached the peak of its turkey production last season, and is firmly established in its position as the "Turkey Province of Canada."

"I'll Die First!"

"I tried to work it off" was the excuse given recently by a man, ill in bed, when told by his physician that he had pneumonia. A battle between life and death was the price this man paid for his neglect of a cold.

"I'll die before I'm operated on" is a statement often heard. The party who makes the remark often gets his wish. Conditions that require surgical care, unless given such care, usually grow worse and worse until it may be too late even to save his life. Excluding accidents, it is in cases such as these which constitute the majority of emergency operations; and the number of deaths after emergency operations is much higher than it is in ordinary surgical cases.

"I thought it was only a sore throat" exclaims the distracted mother to the doctor attending her child who is critically ill with diphtheria. And yet, time and time again, she had read in the newspaper, had been told by her doctor, how this tragic disease could be prevented by the simple injection of toxoid. Thousands of cases of diphtheria occur annually in all countries, some more, some less, depending upon the number of children who have been protected against diphtheria by immunisation. Last year 635 deaths occurred in Canada from diphtheria.

Three types of individuals found in every community have been briefly described. In addition to them is the unskilled person who takes upon himself the role of medical adviser.

People of this type belong to a group, happily becoming fewer, who not only do not avail themselves of the benefits of medical science, but who exercise all in their power to keep these benefits from others.

"And capture those men and get the credit? Not Haskell! He's too wise. Getting those bandits comes second with him. So long as he saves his face, he doesn't really care whether or he gets the credit or not. That Inconnu patrol is dead. It was our best hope, but now it can't ever be. I could bring on trouble for him, I could bring on an investigation; but that would take months. It'd be too late then; those bandits'll be gone."

She repeated, brokenly: "Gone, gone—yes, it'll be too late then, Alan, that means—means Dad will be found guilty—and sent to prison—or worse."

For the second time in the years he had known her, Joyce broke down and cried. It hurt Alan as few things in his life had ever done. As he felt her sobbing against him, as he thought of this tragedy looming over her, his last hesitancy about his plan was swept away. With those handits safe in the watery wilderness of the Thul-Azzah, Dave MacMillan would be convicted; he would be sent up for life. It would break Joyce, break her spirited courage, her wild-born nature. When he thought of the terrible stigma upon a girl so innocent and brave, he swore silently:

"I'll never see her brought down that. I'll get those men, I'll bring the truth into court."

He realized fully that he was starting on a long trail, a trail never to be retraced. He was committing himself to a staggering self-sacrifice. But he had to traverse that path; in honor or he could do nothing else.

He rose abruptly, brushing away his last trace of hesitancy; and gave Joyce his hand to rise.

"Joyce, there's something I've got to do now. I've got to go. You mustn't stay here. Come." He took her arm, and as they went down the slope, he asked: "I want to see you again before I—some final arrangements with you. . . . Won't you be down at the wharf in half an hour?"

Wondering at his odd tones, his stern purposing manner, Joyce promised him.

FOR THE KIDNEYS
THE WORLD'S BEST REMEDY FOR RHEUMATISM AND BLADDER TROUBLE

W. N. U. 1981

At Mrs. Drummond's house he left her and started out along the terrace to Haskell's cabin.

Across the desk he demanded, with no preliminaries:

"I want to buy out. Tonight! Here! Now!"

Haskell's eyes narrowed in suspicion. He could hardly believe it. He knew how deeply Baker was rooted in his work and friendships and life in the northern country; and he could scarcely conceive of a man deliberately throwing away a long brilliant police record at one irremediable step.

But there was no doubting Baker's words, no doubting his grim manner. Baker was demanding to buy out—to get out for good. As he studied the sergeant, Haskell drew back warily. Baker might be laying some trap for him.

He refused. "I'm too short-handed here as it is now."

"I don't give a d— about that. I'm buying out."

Haskell's confidence was returning as he saw that Alan intended no physical violence. "If you buy out, your record ends. You'll have to start all over."

"I'm buying out for good. There'll be no starting over again. I'm getting out of the Mounted, out of the country."

Haskell debated swiftly. He was not adverse to Baker cutting his own head off, and he saw now there was no trap laid for him. But there were other things to be considered. His sober judgment, casting back over the last nine months, recalled the score of times Baker had corrected bad mistakes of his and kept the post running smoothly. Wisdom whispered to him that he needed the man, needed him desperately. And Elizabeth Spaulding . . . Was she going away with Baker? Was Baker taking her with him?

If she went his act in busting the sergeant would prove a boomerang against himself. He tried to temporize.

"I haven't the authority to let you. You'll have to make out application and wait for permission from headquarters."

"That's the rule for close-in detachments. Down north here where a communication would take several months, it's understood that an officer can accept a buy out on his own recognizance."

"But it's not the official rule. Under the circumstances I don't choose to accept your papers."

"You will choose! I'll make you choose! You've busted me, all right; you've saddled the blame and shame of that patrol on me; you've mounded your life and you've got a stool pigeon there to back you up. But I can bring on an investigation for the same. There's things happened last winter that you can't lie out of. Williamson is coming down here next month. He hasn't got any too much use for you now. If I'm here when he comes, what'll I tell him won't help your standing much."

Haskell lit a cigarette to hide his nervousness. He asked, "Where are you going if you get out of service?"

"That'll not be your affair, thank God! I'm leaving here. Tonight. That's all you need to know."

Haskell started a little. Tonight—no boat coming past—it meant Baker was going by himself! Meant Elizabeth would not go with him but would stay here at Edmonton!

Very thoughtful, he looked away, debating Baker's motives, his reasons for this precipitate move, were dark and puzzling. But he saw no way in which they could possibly harm him. Hardcock, an experienced northern man, would still be available, a reliable veteran to turn to, especially if baited by the hope of this vacated sergency. Hardcock would be easier to manage, too. Since Elizabeth was going to stay here, at least temporarily, why shouldn't he let Baker go? The farther away he was, the better!

The more he studied the situation, the more it seemed too good to be true that Baker was deliberately cutting his head off, buying out, getting out of the country, leaving Elizabeth here alone, killing any possibility of the investigation that he secretly dreaded.

"I'll consent on one condition to your buying out. Otherwise, you'll have to wait for official and regular approval."

"What's the condition?"

"There seems," Haskell said steadily, with the ability to look Alan squarely in the eyes, "to be a difference of opinion between us about the responsibility of this Alcocka patrol. If you'll sign a statement to the effect that you had complete charge of the detail and split your party on your initiative—if you'll do that, you can buy out. Otherwise you can't."

Alan wavered. Signing a brazen lie, taking all the stinging disgrace upon himself, strengthening Haskell's guilty hand . . . But then his thoughts leaped to Jimmy and Larry and Dave MacMillan, and to Joyce, pinning her last hope to him. What did it matter, his signing a lie? would it change one jot or tittle of God's truth? What did a rag of paper matter on his long free-thought hunt for those murderers, avenging his partners, shielding Joyce!

He said: "I'll sign. Load it as heavy as you like. But don't knock Hardcock or Pedneault or Younge."

Haskell wrote out the declaration of responsibility. Alan read it. As he wrote his name he mused:

"If I were you, I'd frame that, inspector, and hang it on the wall. It's a certificate of your dishonour."

Not answering, Haskell went on looking up the remaining enlistment period and figuring the amount. Whistle brought over the forms and filled in the data. Both Alan and Haskell, with the constable as witness, signed the numerous official sheets of the procedure.

Folding his copy of it, Alan walked out of the door, out of service, out of the Mounted Police.

CHAPTER VI.

The Dark Hour.

In his cabin Alan took off his uniform and changed to civilian clothes. It seemed to him he was stripping off his foot-free adventure-life with that uniform.

What money he had on hand, several hundred dollars, he buttoned carefully in his shirt pocket. His expenses on this trip ahead would be heavy; he would have to borrow. But he was going to take that Victoria job, and he knew Colonel Steele would gladly give him a salary advance.

"I'm Out of the Mounted—Out for Good!"

Then he made up a slender pack—a single blanket, a change of clothes, food for a week or ten days. That was all. No camping outfit, no weapons, no equipment for wilderness travel.

As he was buckling his pack together, Elizabeth unexpectedly came into the cabin. As she stepped into the light, she exclaimed: "Alan! That MacMillan girl told Mrs. Drummond that Haskell demoted you! That you're a constable! That he put all the blame of this patrol on you!"

"That's what he did," Alan answered, straightening up, facing her. "I didn't believe he was capable of it."

Miss Ann Adam bakes her famous Muffins with Magic Baking Powder

"When selecting ingredients for my recipes," says Miss Ann Adam, culinary authority of the Canadian Home Journal, "I consider three points—economy, health value, and successful performance."

"Magic Baking Powder meets them all. I use and approve Magic, because I know it is pure, and free from harmful ingredients, and because experience has taught me that I can count upon successful results with Magic every time."

Magic Baking Powder is used exclusively by the majority of cookery experts, dietitians, and housewives throughout Canada. In fact, Magic outsells all other baking powders combined.

"CONTAINS NO ALUM." This statement on every tin is your guarantee that Magic Baking Powder is free from alum or any harmful ingredient.

But I shouldn't have been surprised; he's given me cues enough to his nature."

"And you're going to stand for that?" Her voice rose, sharp, nagging. "You're going to be his orderly, a constable, disgraced, bossed around? I'd think that any man would—would—"

She checked herself as she saw the government property laid out on the bed and noticed that Alan was in civilian clothes.

He said quietly "You were a bit hasty. I didn't stand for it. I bought out. I'm out of the Mounted. Out for good!"

Elizabeth gasped. For moments she stared at him, incredulous.

She did not know just why he had taken this drastic step, but vaguely she guessed he had had some fierce clash with Haskell. It did not matter, the circumstances. He was free of this ninety-month rut, this backwoods clinging . . . There had always been a doubt in her mind whether Alan, when the great test came would actually tear himself away from the Mounted. She had expected a fight that would embitter him against her. But now he was out; he would surely take that Victoria job; next winter he would be living in Victoria!

A Shifting Coastline

Many Changes Have Taken Place On New England Coast

Scientists claim to have discovered that the New England coast at one time was two hundred miles near Europe than now, and that Cape Cod was far out to sea. If the earth is several hundred million years old no doubt many changes have taken place. The Rocks at Hopewell, in Albert County, New Brunswick, were dated at one time a part of the rocky shore washed away by the tides and some day may fall, and disappear altogether in the course of time. Likewise the famous marshes in Westmorland and Albert Counties appear to have been formed by sediment deposited by the tides of centuries, and perhaps thousands of years.

Jump Bells Parachutes

The first parachute jump ever to be made in Columbia caused the purchase of twelve parachutes from an American company. The jump was made there from a plane flying above the Madrid military field, 8,000 feet above sea level, the highest in the world, next to the field at La Paz, Bolivia.

Miss Ann Adam's Recipe for Bran Muffins

1/2 cup bran
1/4 cup sugar
1/4 cup flour
1/2 teaspoon salt
2 teaspoons Magic
8 cup melted shortening

Mix the bran with the sifted fine dry ingredients. Make a well in the centre and pour in the milk and well-beaten egg. With the fewest possible number of strokes, blend these ingredients and stir in the shortening. Half fill greased muffin pans and bake in a hot oven, 400° F., 15 to 20 minutes. A few chopped dates, lightly coated with some of the melted flour, may be added.

Little Helps For This Week

"Speak unto the children of Israel, that they go forward."—Exodus 14:15.

"No man having put his hand to the plough, and looking back is fit for the kingdom of God."—Luke 9:62.

Be truthful, be steadfast, whatever be the trial. Only one thing do thou ask of the Lord, Grace to go forward wherever He guides thee. Simply believing the truth of His word.—Aton.

The soul ceases to weary itself with planning and foreseeing, giving itself up to God's holy spirit within, and to the teaching of His providence without. He is not forever fretting as to his progress or looking back to see how far he is getting on, rather he goes quietly and steadily forward, and makes all the more progress because it is unconscious. So he never gets troubled and discouraged; if he falls he humbles himself, but gets up at once, and goes on with renewed earnestness.—Joan Nicolas Gurn.

Almost Impossible

Careless pedestrians are no doubt, as asserted, the cause of some automobile accidents; but it is to be remembered that it is pretty hard even for a careful pedestrian to look four ways at once at a street intersection.

their credit. And we may now see the quietest wearing some new clothes, as on Monday they are said to have won the Essey prize—a new dress suit apiece.

Who May Be Candidates.

Following is a brief summary of those who may be candidates at the forthcoming Inga election—if one be held:

Considerable influence has been brought to bear on Mr Peter Schoepp, to induce him to stand for Councilor in div. 6. Mr Schoepp, as a Councilor for one term from this division about ten years ago. Several other names are mentioned for the office.

On his way back from a motor trip to Edmonton, on Saturday, Mr Gilbert Stebbings was interviewed at the Royal Cafe. Mr Stebbings is one of the enterprising farmers of Carvel district. Gilbert states that his many friends have insisted on his offering himself for election in div. 5, where he resides, and he is giving the matter his "serious consideration." In the event of his consenting, it is possible he will meet with some stout opposition.

In div. 4, Mr Lent has been doing some active campaigning for his own election, and his friends claim he has a good chance. In this division the name of Mr A. E. Hopkins, a former Reeve, has been mentioned in connection with the nomination.

In div. 3, his friends claim Mr C. W. Ibsen will be a candidate. In the election of 1931 Mr Ibsen lost out by a small number of votes. He will probably be opposed by two ex-councilors.

In div. 2 the name most often heard in connection with a nomination for councillor is that of a gentleman prominent in U.F.A. circles who resides not so very far from Lucknow school. He has never been on Inga council.

In div. 1 a young gentleman well known in the U.F.A. ranks and who has never sat at the council board, will be one of the candidates. He has a good following.

Duffield Doings.

At the recent meeting of Duffield Women's Institute Mrs Ohlsee was elected president; Mrs Taylor, secretary; treasurer; Mrs G. O'Sullivan, Mrs M. O'Sullivan and Mrs Heap, directors. The Junior Red Cross was given the sum of $5.

The committee in charge of the boxing bouts say everything is all set for the big event here next Friday Evg., the 17th. There is expected to be over 20 rounds of boxing.

The evening's entertainment will conclude with a dance, to good music. The admission price to the whole works has been set at a low price.

C. L. B. I. Broadcasts.

The Canadian Lutheran Bible Institute will be on the air Feb. 26 and March 5th from 6 to 7 p.m. over station CHMA Edmonton. The school choir of 25 voices will be on program with other musical numbers and short speeches. The last broadcast on March 5 will be in connection with a great fellowship meeting to mark the end of the first school year of the Lutheran Bible School in Canada. On that day there will be all-day meetings at Camrose Lutheran Church.

The Senior hockey team played up at Onoway Tuesday Evg. and won 4 to 2. Onoway comes here next Tuesday.

Edmonton Recreation team failed again to keep their engagement here, with Seniors so Seniors and Juniors put up a very good exhibition game.

There is said to be a bunch of young men up in Wembley practically homeless at the present time, as the pool hall there was destroyed by fire the morning of Feb. 4, with a loss of $4000.

The Radio School.

Golden Wedding Celebration

A celebration was held at St Matthew's Church, Spruce Grove, on Sunday afternoon last, when the Ladies Aid and members of the congregation held a reception in honor of Mr and Mrs Ludwig Schoepp, who celebrated the 50th, or golden, anniversary of their wedding. A chicken dinner was served, which all thoroughly enjoyed. The pastor, Rev G Poetzsch, gave a short address, appropriate to the occasion.

Mr and Mrs Schoepp were married on Monday, Feb. 11, 1883, at Striy, Austria; and are old-time residents of the Spruce Grove district.

The worthy couple were the recipients of many hearty good wishes from their numerous friends and acquaintances, and also were presented with a purse of money; while the Ladies Aid gave them a Golden Wedding crown, framed.

A large representation of the Schoepp family was present, consisting of 2 sons and 4 daughters; 43 grandchildren, and 2 great-grandchildren.

Spruce Grove News

Auctioneer Zucht will hold an auction of stock, implements and household goods on the R Gobel farm next Tues. Feb. 21. Sale starts at 1 p.m.

An election for councilors for Spruce Grove Municipality takes place on Wednesday next, Feb. 22. Elections will be held in divisions 2, 3, 4, with Mr W. J. Johnston as returning officer.

At the service in United Church on Sunday last, Rev W E Sieber spoke on what is called the Oxford Group, the members of which party claim they practise First Century Christianity. The speaker described the movement since its inception, and gave his opinion of its value to the Christian world.

A petition is in circulation in this district, to be forwarded to the Minister of Justice at Ottawa, asking for a shortening of the term of imprisonment imposed recently on Mr Gottlieb Giese, Golden Spike, for an infringement of the Land Revenue act.
